Severe Weather Outlook Thursday, November 19, 2020

Hazardous Weather

Elevated to Critical fire weather conditions are expected across much of the Panhandles. Southwest winds will blow at 15 to 30 mph with higher gusts and relative humidity values will get down close to 10 percent in the western Panhandles.

This afternoon will be warm, near record levels, thanks to full sunshine and dry and breezy southwesterly winds. These same conditions will result in a periods of elevated to briefly critical fire weather across the southwest Texas Panhandle and northwestern South Plains.

Hazardous Weather

We have issued a Dense Fog Advisory through 11am for your Thursday. Visibility from Uvalde to San Antonio to San Marcos and across to Gonzales is all 1/4 mile or less. Those out commuting this morning should slow down, use headlights, and take extra time.
